

Maine Real Estate

Interested in buying your own slice of heaven in DownEast Maine? I can help with that!

I'm happy to announce that I've decided to continue that real estate path up here and have just affiliated with The Christopher Group - one of the premier real estate firms in coastal Maine. With my 'accidental' experience in vacation rentals, I'm well equipped to share my experiences with second home buyers, as well as full-time residents.

(I say accidental, because it all started with one tiny house I intended to flip back in 2003 — it was just so darn cute, I decided to rent it out instead of selling, which led to the purchase of another, and another, and another... and here I am 16 years later, still managing vacation rentals).

If you are considering purchasing your own slice of Maine heaven, give me a shout — I'd love to help you finally make that home in Maine, whether it be a year round or vacation home.

If you currently have a home in Maine that you are thinking of selling, let me know!

I'm certainly not a pushy kind of real estate agent — if you purchased a home from me in the past, hopefully you'll remember that the search can be pretty fun and most definitely an adventure. And here in Maine, everything is most definitely an adventure.
